TAX SEASON UPDATE

SANTA FE – The New Mexico Taxation and Revenue Department reminds taxpayers to complete the New Mexico personal income tax return in full. This is the first year that Form PIT-1, New Mexico personal income tax return, requires that line items specific to computing refunds due or taxes to be paid are on the second page of the return. Many taxpayers are turning to the second page of the form to sign the return and complete the “Refund Express” portion of the form but are not completing lines 28 through 34. By making sure that you complete the lines on the form that apply to you, you ensure that your return will be processed with greater speed and efficiency.

The Department encourages all taxpayers to file their tax returns electronically. If you wish to file a paper personal income tax return, please submit only high-quality, printed, original forms to the Department. A poor print or photocopy of a form obtained from our web site or an approved software product will delay the processing of your return and your refund, credit or rebate. REMEMBER: E-Filing allows you until April 30, 2007 to file and pay your state tax return. This free and easy service is available today by logging on to our website at www.state.nm.us/tax.
